Third Variety of 1965 Canadian Silver Dollar Discovered

The Discovery And Identification Of A Third Variety In The 1965 Silver Dollar Coinage Of Canada Has Just Come About.

REGULAR OBTVERSE

HIGH RELIEF, LARGE BEADED OBTVERSE

Up until about the middle of June this year, all of the 1965 Canadian silver dollars had a pointed "5" in the date. That is, the tail of the 5 came to a point. Then it was discovered that a dollar with a blunt "5" in the date had made its appearance. This was noticed almost simultaneously in the regular silver dollars and in the proof-like specimens. The pointed 5 variety seemed to keep on appearing though up until August, when the blunts took over. Many dealers and collectors have stated that there were no pointed 5 dollars distributed after August.

To keep the record straight, there should be a system of classifying the various types. We have talked to several dealers and collectors, and for the sake of simplification, the first dollars made in 1965 were the pointed 5 variety, and they will be called type I. The blunt 5 which appeared next will be called type II. The new variety which was just discovered will be called type III.

Type III also has a blunt 5 in the date, but the obverse of the coin is very much different. First of all, type III has a high relief edge which is readily visible to the naked eye. Also the beading around the edge of the obverse of type III is markedly different. The individual beads are much larger than the beads in types I and II. This is also readily visible to the naked eye and is a definite type. A search of proof-like sets delivered recently has failed to turn up any proof-like type III dollars as yet, but it is possible that some might appear in the future.

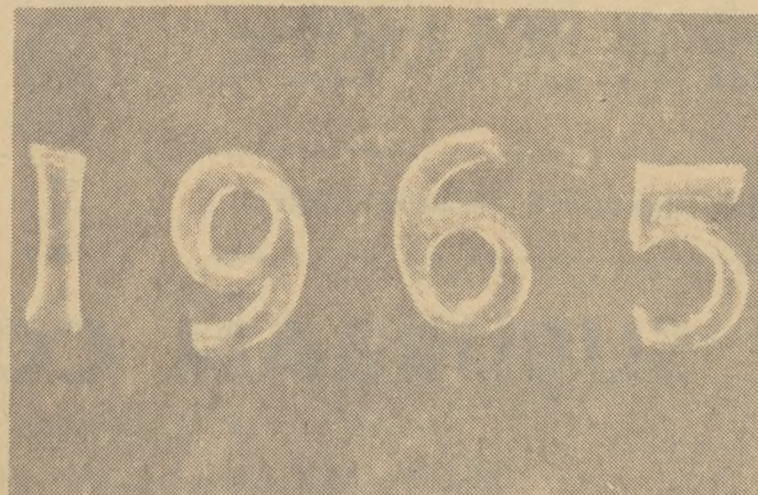

It is hard to predict just what these different varieties mean to the collector and investor right now. As with the 1960 small date cents, the prices are very little over what they would be if there were not any varieties. Which variety will tend to be the scarcest at the end of the year when the Royal Canadian Mint halts minting 1965 dollars is hard to predict, but being that this is already October, it is practically impossible that there would be as many type II and III dollars available for collectors as the type I.

It seems like the bulk of the proof-like sets that have been delivered up to the present time contain the type I dollar.

Coins of Mexico

The 1-Centavo, from 1915 to Date
By Joseph C. Wozniak,
Authority on Mexican Coins

The national emblem of Mexico depicts an eagle with a snake in his beak. This is a direct representation of an old Mexican and Modern Aztec legend which directed that where an eagle sat upon a cactus emanating from a stone resting in water, there you shall settle. The Aztecs saw this sight and established the site now called Mexico City. The eagle and snake side of Mexican coinage is generally recognized as the obverse.

In 1915, the centavo was a coin 20mm in size, 95 percent copper, 4 percent tin and the balance in zinc. This served the nation until 1918b when General Zapata seized control of the government. His forces issued special coinage and their one centavo varied in content only in the tin and zinc where .025 of each was introduced. The copper fineness was maintained but the size reduced 4mm. This special issue lasting only a little more than a year was declared illegal as soon as the Fed-

Mr. Joseph C. Wozniak has always been interested in history, culture, and antiques. He also collected guns and specialized in the Colt models from 1836 to 1873 which included the frontier type six shooters. He mentioned that some of the guns were so scarce and so expensive that he turned to coin collecting. He first started collecting actively in 1943 when he was in the U. S. Air Corps. Mr. Wozniak always delved into the history of coins, and spent quite a bit of money on numismatic literature. He even has a complete set of the 'Numismatist' from 1900 to date.

He saw the future in Canadian coins as far back as 1958, and has written several articles on the coins of Canada. On his trips to Canada and all over the United States he had many inquiries relating to Mexican coinage, especially during 1960 when the first book on Mexican coins came out.

Since that time he has put together an entire set of the one centavo pieces for his personal collection and has specimens of every coin minted in Mexico since 1905. In his travels throughout Mexico and also border towns, he found out that many series,

NUMISMATIC REVIEW

Proof Sets — Past, Present, and Future

In recent weeks I have written on collecting the finer coin specimens and how to preserve them. Today, I shall consider one of these choice specimens, the Philadelphia mint proof.

Just What Is A "Proof?"

By the standard of today a proof coin is a coin manufactured for numismatic purposes from the current coin production metals or from the finest available metals. It is a presentation piece made from highly polished planchets using hydraulic pressure rather than the customary mechanical pressure and struck from a pair of dies which have also been hand polished. Usually two or more pressings are employed the first of which is to rough out the coin and the second which fills in the deepest recesses of the dies to bring out the full relief of the coin and to add full square rims of the so-called sharp edged proof rims. The resulting showpiece which was never meant for circulation has a mirror reflective surface, a mirror reflective surface, and is numismatically speaking — THE PEAK OF PERFECTION.

Early Proofs

Many of today's new breed of collectors think proof coins were first minted in 1950 but the fact is that proofs have been minted consistently since, 1855 and some prior to this date although they are rare.

Recent Issues

With the beginning of the 20th century a new proof called the MATTE or SAND-BLAST proof appeared. The matte proof is so-called due to its flat etched appearance and rightly so the planchets for these coins were pickled in a dilute acid solution. The sand-blast proof generates its name directly from its preparation process, the passing of a sand laden air stream over the planchets surface. These coins still exhibit lustrous surfaces and are strong on relief with wide flat proof rims.

Proof coin mintage died out for a few years from about 1919 to 1936 but from 1936 to date due to added collector interest the mintage totals have risen until 1964 when the Philadelphia mint produced about 4 million complete sets of proofs.

Will There Be Future Proof Issues

Production of current proof sets has been halted due to our coin shortage.

It is predicted that there may be a proof set issued in 1966. With the opening of the old San Francisco Mint, the new Philadelphia Mint and the revamping of our coinage, I'm sure the shortage will be over soon and in time for a "66 Proof Set." Write your congressman, say "Let's Have a 66 Proof Set Please — In 900 Fine Silver."

So folks, since we represent a voice 10 million strong if we all talk together on this common in-

Eliot J. Cashdan
Who says that the coin business is dead? In the past few months there have been many indications to prove just the opposite. All the activity caused by the discovery of the different varieties in the 1965 Canadian silver dollars shows that the interest in coins is still very much alive. Many are of the opinion that this find will compare to the small date cents which were discovered in 1960. Of course whenever a new variety of any coin is discovered, there are a lot of collectors and dealers who scoff at the 'find' and first, and it is true that some of the variations that are discovered are so minor that they never amount to anything.

Is Magnifying Glass Necessary

We think that one of the first things that a collector demands in a major variety is that it can be easily identified. Some of the 'finds' during the past few years, such as the 1938D over S buffalo nickel soon lost their popularity because it was necessary to hold the coin to the light a certain way and also to use a magnifying glass to identify the variety.

Now the pointed and blunt tail 1964 dimes seem to be popular because they are easily identified. As a matter of fact, the 1964-P pointed tail dimes terest subject we will represent a voice not to be denied. A voice saying "Silver proof sets in 1966."

have increased in price considerably during the past few weeks. Although nobody knows how many of each mint were minted, it stands to reason that there must be many more of the Denver Mint out as the Phillies are much higher. This past week we have noticed many dealers offering to buy pointed tail 1964-P dimes on the tele-types, and very few offering to sell. There have been practically no offers to buy the 1964-D dimes. Being that the demand for the 1964-P seems to be higher than the supply right now, the price is going up steadily. The 1964 proof sets with the pointed tail dimes have not kept pace with the uncirculated rolls of Phillie dimes. The 1964 proof sets with pointed tail dimes are just about three dollars higher than the regular sets, and haven't moved up at all lately. We suppose that the proof set is high already because of the proof Kennedy half dollar that it contains, so the pointed tail dime in the set does not affect its value too much.

We have specimens of the three different varieties of the 1965 Canadian dollars, and it certainly does not require a glass to identify them. Many dealers seem to believe in them as they are trying to stock all of the varieties. Any collector that is interested will naturally want one of each type for comparison purposes, and at this time it is too early to tell if one of the types will be much more valuable than the others in months to come. From the looks of the type with the high edge, it would seem that this coin would probably be the one that many people would pick at this time. A roll of 20 coins of the type III dollars stacked up beside a roll of the type I or II seems about one coin higher, although there are actually 20 coins in each stack. The reason for this is the high edge on the type III.

Interest in Canadian Coins

Canadian coins have only quite recently become quite popular in the United States. Up until very few years ago, there was not even a catalog of Canadian coins published. The biggest boost in interest to collecting Canadian coins was given by the United States Treasury Department when they announced that there would be no more proof sets made in the United States after 1964. Being that Canada is our next door neighbor, proof set collectors turned to Canada for 1965 proof sets. Actually the Canadian sets are termed 'proof-like' sets, as they are not struck on special planchets or are special dies used, but the sets are all made up of selected coins without scratches. There are also some smart business men in the Canadian Government, and they raised the price of the 1965 proof-like sets to $4.00 in Canadian funds. The sets used to be $3.00 and they still contain $1.91 face.

Most of you are familiar with the rush to obtain 1965 Canadian proof-like sets from the source of supply. It was announced that orders for the 1965 sets would not be accepted before January 1st 1965. Even so, many collectors sent in their orders early to try to make sure that they would be among the first to receive the sets when they came out. These collectors outsmarted themselves though, as the early orders were returned. The late orders were returned too, as over 2,000,000 orders were received by January 2nd, and the projected capacity of the Royal Canadian Mint at that time seemed to be sold out for the year. The orders were shut off immediately, but a few months later they started accepting orders again. This depressed the prices for a while, but now with the discovery of two varieties in the dollars in the proof-like sets, interest is on the increase and the prices are rising. Up to this time, there have not been any of the type III dollars reported found in proof-like sets. It is entirely possible that some will appear, and we imagine that everyone receiving sets from Canada from now on will quickly open them to inspect the dollars.

New Adventures Recommended for All Numismatists

By Brad Mills

The field of foreign coins is so extensive that many collectors avoid it in favor of the more select and provincial areas. Gradually every numismatist should branch out into new adventures, and certainly the coins of numerous countries are as interesting as our own for many reasons.

World coinage has been so stupendous over the past 2,500 years that any attempt to acquire fully representative specimens of all countries and periods would be both expensive and discouraging. The best alternative is to make a careful study of available coin literature, then develop an organized approach to certain series of one or many countries and periods.

One large foreign collector started early to collect a few strange coins from each of about 20 countries, without regard to age or metal. Such issues included ancient, odd, medieval and modern coins of strong conversations and historical appeal. His original investment was about $2,000 and the coins ranged from ancient to the ultra moderns.

So many facets immediately confront the new foreign collector that he usually picks up a coin here and another one there in an effort to find a more organized course. He finally decides to hit the interesting spots over the whole field, and in reality no harm is done so long as worthwhile coins are acquired.

One large foreign coin collector attempts to divide his purchases roughly as follows:

1. Ancients before 400 A.D., 20 percent.
2. Spanish colonial coinage, 20 percent.
3. European coinage, 20 percent.
4. Canada and Mexico, 15 per cent.
5. Miscellaneous world coinage, 20 percent.

Any one of the above classifications could lead toward a nice collection in its own right, but proper allocation and balance is fairly easy to attain by covering the full field in a limited way. Technically it is impossible to purchase the exact percentages of various series, but by giving and taking here and there the entire world group will go forward in an interesting manner.

Most new collectors put heavy emphasis on the inexpensive current coins of foreign nations as a beginning, then gradually acquire the scarcer ones as they become more experienced and selective. Occasionally an ambitious collector will start out with a real bang by acquiring expensive ancient gold and silver coins before buying the commoner ones. The later plan usually applies to the wealthy collector who wishes to make an impressive showing ahead of necessary research.

Still every numismatist has the right to acquire such coins as will give him most pleasure. If he wishes to show off a bit with rare

Ronny's Reckoning

By Ronny Runner

Recently I obtained a 1932 issue of "The Star Rare Coin Encyclopedia and Premium Catalog," published by The Numismatic Company of Texas which was owned and managed by one of the greatest dealers in numismatics; Mr.

B. Max Mehl. The catalogue that I was lucky enough to get my grubby hands on was Mr. Mehl's buying list for U.S. and foreign coins. At this same time he issued a selling list on coins that was advertised in the buy list at only ten cents per copy.

I noticed many interesting things in the copy I obtained and if I had the space I could write many pages just on the prices that were being advertised to pay at this time period for rare coins. In the next few spaces that "PACE" has been kind enough to let me have I will try to pick out the ones that I feel will interest most people.

In the catalogue there are a few advertisements to sell, below you will find a list of these. California gold pieces. Quarter dollar size, and half dollar size, both round and octagon; the set of four pieces only $3.00.

Ancient coins, all silver these ranged from 50c each to $3.50 each depending on the size of the coin.

Investors . . . Stop Guessing! Advanced Coin Collectors . . . Stop Overpaying! FIND OUT WHAT COINS ARE REALLY WORTH!

OUR BUSINESS is investment counseling and management, market research, appraisal and brokerage. We are NOT dealers with an inventory of bargain-priced coins for sale.

NO CHARGE is made for counseling or management. For our brokerage services we charge only 5% on transactions involving $1,000 to $20,000 — and less on larger orders. Our minimum fee is $50.

SELLING YOUR COINS at their true market value is another of our fine services. When we've received your coins they will be sold. When we've received payment, our check will be sent to you covering the amount of the sale, minus our fee.

WE TRADE coins with you (in order that you may not become liable for the payment of income taxes on your profits) no charge is made for the trade. Instead, we take a mark-up or 5% or LESS on the coins we deliver to you.

UP TO 80% of each of your purchases can be FINANCED. The interest charged is the lowest available anywhere — and we DO NOT take a fee, as do others, for placing the loan. You are not required to reduce the loan unless you eventually wish to take physical possession of the coins.

IT'S EASY to open your account with us! If you are an advanced collector or investor with many years' experience, you can rely upon us to obtain those rare coins you need. If, on the other hand, you know very little about rare coins, and you are primarily interested in a long-range investment program, you really should just leave everything to us.

WHEN WE EXECUTE an order for you a formal confirmation is sent to you showing the exact prices paid or received by us, our fee, and sales tax and shipping charges, if any.

OUR RESEARCH STAFF analyzes the BU SINGLE and ROLL market quarterly. This includes almost every United States coin minted since the Civil War, and many coins minted prior thereto. No longer is it necessary to guess. These quarterly analyses tell you which coins are UNDERPRICED and which coins are OVERPRICED. Not all are actively traded and some are not easy to locate at the right price. However, as a regular subscriber you will have a definite advantage over those who are hoping and groping in the dark.

THESE ANALYSES are available quarterly at $3.00 per copy, or $10.00 annually. The latest issue is just off the press and contains some real startling facts. Most coins are a buy in today's market (unless you pay retail), but many popular coins are definitely overpriced. Don't hesitate a minute — it could mean a fortune to you in the future.

Security Coin Co. May Have a New Look At Investment

The following is from a exclusive interview granted PACE by Donald Richard Lee:

Donald Richard Lee, the

door to door. The real inspiration for coin collecting was developed by his father who gave him a bag of rare foreign coins which his father accumulated in England and France during World War I. As was natural, Mr. Lee's interest in coins was limited to collecting United States coins, and he has today a special knowledge of the interest in Silver Commemoratives. Although the interest as a hobbyist never waned, Mr. Lee did not become sufficiently interested in coins as an investment until 1964 when Security Coin Company was organized.

Research

It was Mr. Lee's concern for what he considered speculative excesses in the coin market that caused him to enter into a massive research program in an effort to discover a method of accurately predicting price movements. It is with considerable pride that Mr. Lee points out that he has prevented many people from buying the wrong coins at the wrong time. "Naturally, we are interested in business but we want your business for the next 30 years, not just for today" says Mr. Lee.

In order for our program to be successful we have separated emotion from fact. Do not ask us what we like or don't like. It's simply a matter of gathering facts and running them thru a computer. We don't claim to be 100 percent accurate but until someone builds a better system, we'll have to settle for 95 copper to silver complete for $4.50.

Two sets of broken bank bills. Set No. 1, contains the following notes — 25c, 50c, $1, $2, $3, $5, and $10. All seven different for $1.50.

Set No. 2, contained — 5c, 10c, 15c, $3, $4, and all notes up to the $100 denomination. Twenty five different notes at $8.50.

The items advertised were what was in ready supply at this time, and Mr. Mehl felt if he could sell any of these items in his buy list it would of course be of help to him. The main objective of the catalogue was to buy. But one section of the magazine did have the above items for sale and also the following list for sale, to give a comparison I took the buy prices out of the buy list and inserted them besides this small sell list. It reads as follows.

| | Buy | Sell |
|--------------|------------|------|
| Half cent | .07 | .35 |
| Large cent | .02 to .20 | .35 |
| Flying eagle | .01 to .05 | .10 |

| Three cent (silver) | .05 to .25 | .25 |
| Bust half dime | .06 to .15 | .35 |
| Half dime | .05 to .10 | .15 |
| Bust dime | .10 to .20 | .55 |
| Twenty cent | .25 to .30 | .75 |
| Bust quarter | .30 to .50 | 1.40 |
| Quarter before 1837 | .25 to .35 | .90 |
| Isabella quarter | .30 to .50 | 2.50 |

| Columbian half dollar | .50 | .75 |
| Seated liberty dollar | 1.10 | 2.25 |
| Trade dollar, buy proofs | .75 | 1.40 |

Cheap prices in relation to buying. That was a surprise for me but I think that most of the coins that he hoped to buy were the higher grades, and so in his sell list he tried to move out the lower grade merchandise. Of course there

Dear Pace Readers,

All the items listed available for immediate delivery. It is very gratifying to us that all of you have this unique opportunity to acquire major varieties such as these (certainly comparable to our own 1960 Small Date Cent) at prices which are no higher than those you would ordinarily pay for regular issues.

Weigh the following pros and cons and see if you come to the same conclusions as we do regarding the 1965 Canada Dollar, Blunt 5 varieties.

PROS:

Already recognized as majority varieties? YES
Easily seen with the naked eye? YES
Available at low prices? YES

CONS:

Is my set complete without them? NO
Are unlimited quantities available? NO
Will they sell for less next month? NO*

CONCLUSION:

The 1965 Canada Dollar, Blunt 5 Varieties, BU or Proof-Like, is certainly a Blue-Ribbon Winner!!!

NEW MAJOR DIE VARIETIES IN THE 1965 CANADA DOLLAR

AVAILABLE AT PRICES
WITHIN EVERYONE'S REACH

Don't Be Sorry Later That You Did Not Buy Now!

During the year 1965 a Blunt 5, a Pointed 5 and Blunt 5 with high relief obverse edge have all been used on the 1965 Canadian Dollar. These varieties appear on the BU coins as well as on the Proof-Like specimens (Type III not discovered on P.L.'s yet).

Not since the 1947 Canadian Dollar with Blunt 7 and Pointed 7 (which now Trend at $50 and $225 respectively) have varieties of such major significance, easily seen with the naked eye, appeared to fire the imaginations of collectors and investors.

to show us that you are going to dedicate yourself to upgrading your new numismatic publication—immediately undertake to get us the return of our money presently impounded in Mexico as a result of our faith in your comments on the coin market.

I'm willing to give you the benefit of the doubt — maybe you were "framed" on the whole Mexican fiasco. But framed or not, I feel you have a moral obligation to those of us who sent our money as a result of your column. My money has been gone for 10 months. I'm not a wealthy person and the loss of the $40 which I sent has created hardship for me.

I have previously written to Mr. Brown requesting cancelation of my subscription and return of my money. Good ethical journalist that he is, he has ignored my requests. I guess from this that I can't cancel — even though I do feel dissatisfied with the paper. However, unless you help me get my money back, you can be sure I won't renew.

Sincerely,
H. J. Kelly

or unusual purchases of ancient or modern foreign coins, he may have a better point than we realize.

The frugal and limited collector will do well to search foreign coin literature for leads that will give him the most representative and historical items. Such countries as England, Greece struck significant coins in all periods of their civilization. A good coin dealer can be of great help, too.

Type sets apply to much of foreign coinage, and the seasoned collector will want to use his U.S. Experience in this field to good advantage. Many of the very old countries varied their coinage with their change of fortune, but the modern denominations have remained fairly continuous and uniform.

Ancient coins will center around Greece, Egypt and Rome, and are available in bronze, silver and gold. Great hordes of these old coins have been unearthed periodically for 2,000 years, and largely because of this fact they may be readily obtained within the means of most collectors.

Coins generally remain in circulation much longer in European countries than in U.S. Until recently France, England and Italy gave no special thought to coins even more than 100 years old. However, the numismatic craze has given a special interest to foreign coins considered commonplace only yesterday, and they gradually are being withdrawn from circulation much as our own are.

Odd and unusual monies are interesting, and may even include certain commemoratives. Knife money, wife money, bullet money and a dozen other oddities may be acquired from many sources. Africa, Sweden and the upper Orient issued primitive monies of unusual appeal.

Coins of Canada, England and Mexico have become increasingly popular since 1958, and many were beautifully struck in various metals. Other countries also minted coins that are more striking than our own.

Coin Exchange Transactions

BU ROLL PRICES AS OF
WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1965

The BID and ASKED prices listed on this page were taken directly from the prices shown on the teletype, and represent wholesale prices at which coins were traded at or were offered at during the week of October 6th. Of course there are some items that had several different prices both bid and asked, and we have done our best to average these items so as to give our readers the best picture possible. We have tried to ignore ridiculous bids and offers to keep the prices true. For instance, a certain roll might be actively traded in at between $95.00 and $100.00 and we have noted many transactions around these figures. Naturally we will ignore a bid offer of $75.00 or a sell offer of $125.00 on this roll as these offers are not in line at all and would just confuse the picture. REMEMBER, THESE ARE TRANSACTIONS BETWEEN DEALERS. RETAIL PRICES ARE HIGHER.

erales recaptured the mint. The 20mm size was then restored but the 1915 content and design were kept constant.

The centavos from 1916 to 1943 vary slightly from the coins of 1944 to 1949. The early bronze coins have 95 percent copper, 2½ percent tin and 2½ percent zinc. The other have 95 percent copper but only 1 percent tin and 4 percent zinc.

The coins from 1950 to date were reduced in size because of the devaluation of the previous year. Once again the centavo returned to only 16mm but the alloy now consisted of 85 percent copper and 15 percent zinc. These "bronzes" or brass are affectionately called "chiquita centavos" or "little cents." This continual variance is one more reason why Mexican coinage is one of the most famous and popular foreign coins.

Perhaps you wonder at the constant attention paid to the content of the coins, etc. They are neither static in content, design or size. Present changes contemplated may eliminate the centavo forever from Mexico's decimal system. (Additional changes are certain in other denominations and I predict the 25 centavo and 1 centavo will suffer drastic revisions.)

The present Mexican centavo carries a hook-necked eagle facing left, the identification — "Estados Unidos Mexicanos," the denomination, date, mint mark plus the wheat stalk. Quite a bargain artistically, and I believe—numismatically an opportunity to collect or invest in the coins of Mexico.

The coins of Mexico are most popular of all foreign coins today, both as a collectors item or for investors, also, the 1 centavos of Mexico are so scarce and in most cases rarely can a 1 centavo set be put together from the years 1935 to 1965 in Strict Uncirculated or Brilliant Uncirculated. Ever seen any? ?

Rolls of these 1 centavos are available, but most dates in True Uncirculated or Brilliant Uncirculated are hard to find as very few exist. So this series is one of the most interesting of any coin in the Mexico Series. Many of these 1 centavos sell for more than some Mexico Silver Coins. Check your coin papers to find where these can still be purchased at Low Sleeper prices by the roll. A note to remember: Brilliant Uncirculated means Strict Uncirculated. More on the 1 centavo and other Series of Mexican Coins in a later edition.

especially the copper and bronze coins were hard to find in nice condition. Mr. Wozniak now specializes in the coins of Mexico, and he has gained his knowledge of them first hand through his trips to Mexico and at conventions all over the United States.

We at PACE are proud to have Mr. Wozniak as one of our feature writers, and we are sure that our readers will enjoy his column on the coins of Mexico.

INEXPENSIVE SCARCER COINS

BRITISH ISLE OF JERSEY—1964 BU double mint sets in custom holder, at $1.00 or 10 double sets at $7.50.

KATANGA—The only 2 coins of this short-lived African country (aside from the gold), the 1 and 5 fr. ave. circ. condition, in a custom snaplok holder, special at $2.00 or 10 sets $17.50.

PHILIPPINES—1947-S MacArthur fifty centavos in custom snaplok holder with silver imprinting on black insert, a very short mintage coin special at $2.00 or take 10 at $17.50.

YEMEN REPUBLIC—BU 1 Halala Y-11, 1 coin at .50 or take 5 coins at $2.25; a real good item for coin of each country sets.

BELGIAN CONGO—5 fr. Y-25, the scarce elephant coinage, in average circ. condition, special at $3.50; must limit these to 2 coins per order. These are in very short supply.

SHARJAH—The new crown of 1964 commemorating John F. Kennedy, a very low mintage of 33,000 and a must for crown and country collectors. This will be a good coin for investors as well. 1 BU coin at $5.95 or put away 10 coins at $50.00.

SIAM—The odd and curious silver "BULLET MONEY," 1/8 tical size, this small size coin is very scarce. A real addition to your world collection at $3.50 per coin and I must limit this item to 2 coins per order, these are in very short supply.

I am in the process of updating my mailing list for the fall. I will have some nice material for sale. Should you want to receive this list, just drop me a line and if you are so inclined, list your specialty. Would welcome all want lists, as my stock is fairly comprehensive in minor, crowns and proof coins and sets. I just might have the coin you want at the price you want to pay.

are many conclusions to be drawn and anyone's guess is certainly as good as mine.

The coin market has been and will continue to be helped by up to date publications such as the great new "PACE." Thirty years ago the collectors and dealers did not have the communication that we now enjoy. Of course in all fields such as; medicine, machines, and many others we have made great advances and the dynamic coin market of course will continue to keep up its growth and advancement by the help of many learned and capable men that go together to make the numismatic world strive forward.

"PACE" will continue to bring us up to the minute reports on news that we all need. Numismatics is now a hobby for the informed and this trend will become more and more defined as we grow. We must all strive to learn and keep up, collectors, investors and dealers alike.

percent of our current and long-range prognosis being right.

Mr. Lee is no stranger to research and analysis. From 1957 to 1962 he was a registered representative and later an investment advisor in the securities business. In the five years he spent handling millions of dollars of investors monies, he only had one stock go sour, and the courts later proved the company issued false financial statements.

No Inventory

Security Coin does not maintain an inventory of coins because we do not want to be accused of carrying water on both shoulders. We always act as an agent except when trading directly with a client. No, we do not have any teletype machines but some day, maybe. In Mr. Lee's opinion they are not necessary when buying coins from reputable dealers at wholesale prices, and of questionable value when selling for a client. Besides, why run up a red flag when we're looking for scarce items.

THE LIBERTY COIN CLUB OF Corpus Christi, Texas will hold their Fourth Annual Coin Show on Oct. 30 and 31 at the Memorial Coliseum, Corpus Christi. With abundant parking space, well lighted bourse area and large exhibit area this promises to be one of the best shows held in this city in some time.

The featured attraction of the show will be the 1913 Liberty Nickel owned by J. V. McDermott which will be displayed for public viewing. There will also be extensive competitive and non-competitive exhibits.

There will be a limit of thirty-three dealers at this show and all tables have been sold.

The general chairman of the show is Clarence Davis, also acting as bourse chairman. Exhibit chairman is Bob Bridges; publicity, Mrs. Martha Park; registration, Mrs. M. E. Foy; security, Ed Kane and electrical, Ivan (Marty) Martin. These chairmen will be ably assisted by all members of the club.

agement, market research, appraisal and brokerage in the field of rare coins. No charge is made for counseling or management. For our brokerage service we charge only 5% on transactions involving $1,000 to $20,000 — even less on larger amounts." Mr. Lee told us.

"If you are an investor, accustomed to short-term trading in the stock market, you may enter into a Limited Partnership Agreement with them, thus avoiding all commissions and sales tax; a very desirable arrangement for the right person. We do all the work in the area of arbitrage, acquisition of distress stocks from dealers inventories or emergency appraisal and liquidation in behalf of estates not already on our books as clients, margin financing in the name of the partnership, etc. Profits are split 50/50. Minimum cash req. $10,000."

A SAFE FIELD?

Mr. Lee said, "History has documented the facts year after year which prove conclusively that coin investing is safer and more profitable than any other investment media."

"We are expanding our operations throughout the United States and elsewhere. Franchises are available now in prime areas at a cost of only $6,500 to $29,500."

CENLA COIN CLUB TAKES pleasure in announcing their L.N.A. District II one-day coin show in the Bolton Ave. community center on Oct. 31.

Coin collecting interests are still running high in their area, and because of the lack of shows to attend, they have accepted the invitation to put on a good one-day show Oct. 31.

They invite you to come and enjoy this show with them. To make this as busy a show as possible, they are eliminating the auction so that you can take full advantage of the bourse, exhibits, and fellowship.

Time is from 9 a.m. till 5 p.m.; exhibits by coin clubs; 25 bourse dealers; snack bar; security bar; and door prizes will be given.

Registration: Mrs. Mary Barnidge; snack bar: Mrs. M. M. Morgan; exhibits: Charles Chaudoir; bourse: Carl Herkenrath; general chairman: Jerry Dwyer.

Information: CenLa Coin Club, P. O. Box 4004, Alexandria, La.

WE ARE PROUD TO BE WITH PACE

We feel that PACE is a needed item for every investor, no matter how large or how small he may be. Nowhere, I repeat, nowhere else can you weekly obtain statistics for comparison of your investment dollar. On this basis alone you should be a subscriber to PACE. Therefore we offer a 3 month subscription free with each $10.00 order, with an order of $50.00 a 6 month subscription and with orders of over $100.00 a full year's subscription free.

As in the past, we will guarantee to fill a minimum of 5 to 10 rolls or 5 to 10 items from our ad regardless of price fluctuations — so please get your orders in early so that you can be assured of obtaining the merchandise you desire. All orders will be shipped as promptly as possible. Notification of orders will be mailed same day as orders received with approximate shipping date.

Please mention PACE when ordering from this ad.
